

Teach me your ways, O Lord

Monday, December 15, 2014
3rd Week of Advent

“Teach me your ways, O Lord.” (Psalm 25: 4)

Why do we test the Lord? He knows what is best for us, yet we have another idea! The commandments give us the frame work to live by – but why is our idea better than God’s given commandments? Love your neighbor as yourself because you love God! How simple?

Reflection:

Use today’s psalm response as a prayer mantra: “Teach me your ways, O Lord”. Repeat it over and over until your mind and heart become open so that your effort and desire are truly to learn the ways of the Lord and live them out daily.

Sister Margaret Manion, OSU
Ursuline Sisters
Toledo, Ohio

