

Service Learning Opportunity Companions in Mission

Job Description: Companions in Mission are young-adult women looking for a faith-based service learning experience while living and ministering with a religious community.

Companions in Mission will participate in the community life and outreach of the Ursuline Sisters of Youngstown, including engaging in prayer and faith-sharing.

An individual service learning program will be created for each Companion in Mission to best utilize her skills and education, helping her build experience in her chosen field of study.

Applicants are able to live at the Ursuline Motherhouse in Canfield, Ohio, for the term of their service.

Applicants must present a clear federal background check, letters of reference/reference contact information, and be in good academic standing. Applicants should be open to working/able to work respectfully with people of diverse cultures, economic status, religions and personal beliefs.

Duration of Program: Fall Semester, Spring Semester or Summer Session

Job Start/End Date/Work Schedule: Flexible as this program is open to women enrolled in college classes.

Organization Description: The Ursuline Sisters of Youngstown are Catholic Nuns who respond together to meet the critical needs of God's people in Youngstown and northeast Ohio. St. Angela Merici, our founder, was born in Italy in 1535. She was a woman of faith and vision who served the Church and sought to be an instrument of change in her world. Today the Sisters live Gospel values, desire to deepen their relationship with Christ, support one another in community, and strive to make a difference in the world.

The Ursuline Sisters of Youngstown minister in the areas of education, health care, social service, parish work, marketing and development with a focus on poverty. The Ursuline Sisters sponsor several nonprofit programs, such as Beatitude House, Casa Madre, Ursuline Preschool and Kindergarten and Dorothy Day House.

Job Location: Youngstown and northeast Ohio
